

Great Territory Planning

A 1-day workshop for sales teams to adopt and work through a proven process for comprehensive territory planning, including targeting the right accounts, estimating total territory potential (per product and total), building account profiles, and building account strategies (account planning).